Managing Director of Basi

Dear Sir or Madam,
The world of work faces major challenges – and equally major opportunities. The 39th International A+A Congress 2025 is the place where we will find answers together and break new ground. As an internationally significant platform for safety and health at work, the congress brings together people who have one thing in common: the desire to shape the future of work in the best possible way.

Whether artificial intelligence in occupational safety or mental health, whether prevention of hazardous effects or healthy design of modern workplaces – all of the numerous topics covered by the congress reflect the dynamics of our time. They show how diverse and relevant prevention is today. I am particularly pleased that the Vision Zero initiative will be visible with its own stage at the A+A trade fair. Because the goal of preventing occupational accidents and diseases is not only ambitious – it is achievable. And together we will show how this can be done.

The A+A Congress is more than just a specialist forum. It is a space for innovation and inspiration, enabling exchange and dialogue. Formats such as 'Tatort Arbeitsplatz' (Crime Scene: Workplace), the A+A cinema, interactive exhibitions and live activities bring occupational safety and health to life. And exclusive company tours provide a practical insight into how companies implement safety, health and sustainability in concrete terms.

I cordially invite you to be part of this movement. Let us think, act and shape the future together – for a safe, healthy and sustainable working environment.

Yours sincerely,
Dr Christian Felten
